Hi everybody! We're Prima and Pretzel, two one-year-old sisters who were part of a large group of rescued kitties in Paso Robles. We helped each other through the whole rescue thing and have really bonded (as you can see from our photos), so it would be great if we could find a home together. Prima is the more affectionate one and especially enjoys helping when someone is working at the computer. She enjoys getting brushed and doesn't even mind having her nails trimmed. Pretzel is a little shy but is sometimes more daring in her explorations around the house. Once she accepts you, though, she will roll over to let you know it's okay to rub her belly, which she loves. She is also okay with grooming. We are both very sweet and affectionate but haven't gotten any real attention lately. Neither of us have been outdoor kitties, so we're quite happy in the house. Is there room in your house for us?
