My name is Rita, of "Lovely Rita Meter Maid" fame (it's a Beatles song for you young types). I'm a bit of a young type myself, at about nine months to a year old, and I've found myself in a most distressing situation - in a noisy shelter. I'm confused and quite afraid and in need of someone to spring me. I've been told I look like I'm an Abyssinian mix and have lovely short brown-ticked tabby fur. I also have an incredibly soulful face. It's a face that says: Please, cat-savvy person, can't you take me home with you to a quiet home with no other animals (I'm quite afraid of dogs) or small children? If you do, I will reward you with years and years of love and companionship and a lot of happiness for both of us. Although I am quite stressed out, I have shown some interest in toys so once I am in a safe environment will most likely be quite playful and active and will make sure to show you how appreciative I am that you got me out. I am spayed, microchipped, tested negative and up to date on all my shots. In short, I'm REALLY ready for my new home so please call Martha at the information above and below as soon as possible!
